Working Caregiver Support Program

What is the Working Caregiver Support Program?

The Working Caregiver Support Program offers support to employed persons by connecting them to support groups, respite care, in-home care, and referrals to community resources for the caregiver and the care recipient. Our Care Manager is able to offer a confidential assessment of the caregiver's needs and help identify resources to meet those needs.

Why is the Working Caregiver Support Program needed?

Eighty percent of all care provided to older adults in our counties is provided by family members. Forty-seven percent of these caregivers are employed outside the home. Today American businesses lose $11-29 billion each year due to caregiving issues. Replacing employees who quit, workday interruptions, dealing with elder care crises, absenteeism, increased health and mental health costs due to stress, and leave of absences all contribute to financial loss. By offering assistance and support to employees, costs can be lowered and productivity will be increased.

What is the employer's role?

The role of the employer is to provide policies and a family friendly environment at the workplace, and to partner with CPAAA to provide services for the caregiver on site with information, assistance, and resources.

What are the benefits for the employed caregiver?

The majority of caregivers say they would like to obtain information about options, providers, and support services, but do not know where to look. The Working Caregiver Support Program will provide the caregiver with that information. When the caregiver is able to make informed choices stress level is reduced and productivity increases.

Who is eligible?

Any working caregiver in Sedgwick, Butler or Harvey counties caring for someone 60 years of age or older or caring for a person of any age who has an Alzheimer's diagnosis is eligible.

Is there a cost?

There is no charge to participate.
